Elliot Mather acquires Derby Office

We are very pleased and excited to announce that we acquired a Derby office in January 2012.

Although historically we have always been based in north Nottinghamshire and north Derbyshire, extending south to both Derby and Nottingham has always been a long term aim of Elliot Mather LLP. We have strong connections with professional and commercial colleagues based in and around these cities. Furthermore, with both cities being home to significant courts such as the County and Crown courts, as well as the employment tribunal based in Nottingham we regularly appear in these cities.

Flood Risk - Could you be sitting on a future uninsurable property?

On the 30 June 2013, the 'Statement of Principles' between the Association of British Insurers and the Government, which commits insurers to continue to provide flood insurance under certain scenarios, is being withdrawn.

It is believed that one in four UK properties are at risk of flooding, meaning that up to £214bn worth of property could be uninsured post June 2013. Average UK flooding insurance claims are £30,000.

When is your security not secure?

Lending money to any company has always been risky. The risk can be reduced by checking the company's financial position, but often this is not enough to guarantee payment of all interest or repayment of the loan amount when due.

Many seek to reduce the risk by 'taking security', usually a charge over company's assets. The idea is that should the company be unable to pay its debts when due, the lender will have first in priority to sell the assets charged and recover its money.

Horsing About

The sale and purchase of horses can lead to complex consumer disputes. When purchasing a horse you are purchasing an unknown quantity with an inherent difficulty in guarding against latent defects.
